Welcome to INSC 559: Grant Development for Information Professionals. Grantmaking supports a substantial amount of research, policy development and outreach in LIS. In this course, you will be introduced to the world of grant writing and... develop important skills to help you write successful grants for your library/information organization. By the end of the semester, you will have completed a project proposal requesting funding for a project you are passionate about. The hope is that you will leave the course with a strong sense of how to approach securing funding for your institution, as well as a tangible product (a completed proposal) that you can modify and submit to the agency of your choice in your current or future role as an information professional.

Class meets synchronously via Zoom on Thursdays from 6:30 – 9:10pm ET. The class meets from 26 January (first day of class) until 4 May 2022 (last day of class).

COURSE INFORMATION

Catalog Description

[From Course Catalog] Covers the grant-seeking process, including locating and evaluating grant opportunities, building relationships with funding agencies, analyzing the needs of the grant-seeking institution and the community at large, identifying and building key partnerships within the community, developing a grant proposal, and building a grant budget. (3 credits)

Additional Information

This course focuses on all aspects of grant development for library and information sciences (LIS) professionals. Students will gain practical experience and knowledge in grant writing as they build their skills in the grant-seeking process, including locating and evaluating grant opportunities, building relationships with funding agencies, analyzing the needs of the grant-seeking institution and the community at large, identifying and building key partnerships within the community, developing a grant proposal, and building a grant budget. Particular focus is given to developing community partnerships across different types of libraries, information agencies, community organizations, funders, local business and industry, the government sector, and telecommunication services to address the needs of diverse, multicultural communities in contemporary American society.

Student Learning Outcomes

MSIS Program Outcomes

It is our vision to provide a quality educational program, and for students to have the very best educational experience possible. By the end of their time in the MSIS program, each student should be able to:
1. Describe and discuss the processes of creation, organization, distribution, storage, access, retrieval, management, use, and preservation of information.
2. Describe and discuss the nature of leadership and management in the information professions and the importance of participation in the global information society.
3. Apply the general principles, values, and ethical standards of providing information services in a variety of settings and for diverse populations.
4. Comply with the changing responsibilities of the information professional in a culturally diverse and networked global society.
5. Identify critical professional issues in a variety of organizational, cultural, societal, disciplinary, transdisciplinary, and historical contexts.
6. Analyze and apply standards or policies related to the processes of creation, organization, distribution, storage, access, retrieval, management, use or preservation of information.
7. Explain the changing nature of information, information needs, and information behavior.
8. Assess and implement information technologies, systems, sources, and services that serve users effectively and efficiently.
9. Analyze research and apply it to information practice.

In the context of limited funding and budget constraints on library spending, it is imperative for new LIS graduates to assume responsibility and develop practical skills for seeking out and implementing externally funded grant projects. Part of the process involves critically examining strategic planning and relational management skills to develop successful grant proposals across different information environments. This course explores the strategy of developing community partnerships as part of hypothetical grant-writing activities. All course expectations and assignments are designed toward writing a grant proposal that students can submit to a funding agency after the semester ends, based on specific deadlines.

By the completion of this course, the student will:

- Recognize the role of strategic relational management in developing successful externally funded grant projects;
- Develop understanding of the grant-writing process and increase competency in grant-writing skills;
- Translate audience needs into a service plan to create innovative information services that will be represented in a well-written grant project;
- Include a completed grant proposal in their professional portfolio that may lead to positive job opportunities and prospective career development.
Course Design

The course adopts an active learning approach. Students are required to complete all required readings, attend all class lectures, complete graded activities, and assignments, and participate in all class activities, including teacher-led and student-led discussions, and small-group and individual activities. All required readings are listed in the Course Outline section of this syllabus.

The design of this course will help nurture individual passion, interests, and strengths, while at the same time, making the entire experience worthwhile for us all. The course sessions consist of lectures, demonstrations, discussions, and worksheet sessions that will help each student develop an individualized grant project that can be implemented in future professional settings. Students are encouraged to submit their grant proposals, based on the deadlines for their selected funding agency.

Required Texts

The Gerding and MacKellar text is available for purchase through the VolShop (campus bookstore); https://www.utvolshop.com. The text may also be available for purchase and/or rental via Amazon Textbooks (https://www.amazon.com), BetterWorld Books (https://betterworldbooks.com), or Barnes & Noble Textbooks (https://www.barnesandnoble.com).

All other readings and viewings listed in the Course Outline are available through different channels, including subscription databases from the University of Tennessee Libraries, unless otherwise noted in the Course Outline. If you have any access challenges, you are to: (1) contact a library staff member if it is an issue with accessing a resource listed in the library catalog or accessible from a library-licensed database; (2) look on Canvas to see if any scanned PDFs are provided there; and 3) check the Canvas Discussion Board to see if an alternative access point for the “unavailable” source has been posted. If said troubleshooting does not work, then, and only then, contact me via Canvas. All URLs in the Course Outline are checked at the start of the semester. Be aware that web content is dynamic, and URLs are subject to change or become unavailable (e.g., 404 “not found” error message).

Be sure to orient yourself to using library resources at the University. You are expected to retrieve the assigned journal articles etc., whether from the library’s collection or elsewhere. I do not provide instruction in how to do so. Consult library resource pages, such as “Information for Graduate Students,” “Distance Education,” and “Tutorials and Videos.”
Recommended Texts
All papers and projects are to utilize either APA 7th ed. or Chicago 17th ed. In addition to resources provided via Canvas course materials, you are strongly encouraged to engage with the following texts;

Civility
Civility is genuine respect and regard for others: politeness, consideration, tact, good manners, graciousness, cordiality, affability, amiability and courteousness. Civility enhances academic freedom and integrity, and is a prerequisite to the free exchange of ideas and knowledge in the learning community. Our community consists of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and campus visitors. Community members affect each other’s well-being and have a shared interest in creating and sustaining an environment where all community members and their points of view are valued and respected. Affirming the value of each member of the university community, the campus asks that all its members adhere to the principles of civility and community adopted by the campus: http://civility.utk.edu/.

ASSIGNMENTS, ASSESSMENTS, AND EVALUATIONS

Academic Integrity

Students should be familiar and maintain their Academic Integrity described in https://hilltopics.utk.edu/academics/, p. 15 as: “Study, preparation and presentation should involve at all times the student's own work, unless it has been clearly specified that work is to be a team effort. Academic honesty requires that the student present his or her own work in all academic projects, including tests, papers, homework, and class presentation. When incorporating the work of other scholars and writers into a project, the student must accurately cite the source of that work.”

Students should abide by the Honor Statement (https://hilltopics.utk.edu/student-code-of-conduct/ Section X. Honor Statement) “As a student of the University, I pledge that I will neither knowingly give nor receive any inappropriate assistance in academic work, thus affirming my own personal commitment to honor and integrity.”

Plagiarism

Statement about plagiarism and penalties, e.g.,

Plagiarism in any of its several forms is intolerable, and attention to matters of documentation in all written work is expected and required. Inadverrence, alleged lack of understanding, or avowed ignorance of the various types of plagiarism are not acceptable excuses.

Specific examples of plagiarism are:

1. Copying without proper documentation (quotation marks and a citation) written or spoken words, phrases, or sentences from any source;
2. Summarizing without proper documentation (usually a citation) ideas from another source (unless such information is recognized as common knowledge);
3. Borrowing facts, statistics, graphs, pictorial representations, or phrases without acknowledging the source (unless such information is recognized as common knowledge);
4. Collaborating on a graded assignment without the instructor's approval;
5. Submitting work, either in whole or in part, created by a professional service and used without attribution (e.g., paper, speech, bibliography, or photograph).

Students who may be unsure of the nature of plagiarism should consult the instructor or a guide for writing research reports. (Additional resources are available at http://www.lib.utk.edu/instruction/plagiarism.)
Infractions of academic integrity are penalized according to the severity of the infraction but may include a course grade of "F."

Assignments and Evaluation

Your final course grade is based on participation and six (6) scaffolded assignments. Assignments are submitted via Canvas. Be aware: Not all due dates coincide with a class session. See “Assignments” on Canvas for instructions.

Due Dates and Late Assignments

Late work will only be accepted under two (2) circumstances, that 1) you are involved in a UTK-approved emergency (https://prepare.utk.edu); or that 2) you have sought prior agreement from me at least 36 business hours before the assigned due date. Note that final projects are not considered for late submission unless there is a dire (https://www.dictionary.com/browse/dire) emergency.

Incompletes

Based on adopted University of Tennessee-Knoxville and SIS policy, a grade of I (Incomplete) is reserved for emergencies that prevent the student from completing the course on time. Incompletes are granted only under "the most unusual of circumstances" and solely at the discretion of the instructor. Plan your semester’s course of study carefully to insure sufficient time to complete the required work.

For students who simply "disappear" without contacting the instructor and without completing the required form, an "F" is submitted.
Evaluation

You are welcome to discuss your assignment evaluations with me. You should wait 24 business hours after receiving the grade to contact me, and present documentation for why you believe you have earned a different grade. Please note that as the instructor of record, I reserve the right to make the final decision.

Semester grades will be assigned according to the following scale:

Course Evaluation

You will be invited to evaluate the course at the end of the term. Please participate in this valuable process, as I take your feedback into consideration when designing the course output for future terms. Course evaluations are anonymous. However, civil and professional comments and critiques are valued.

DISCLAIMER

Please be aware revisions may be made to this syllabus, including the Course Outline, over the course of the semester, and as such, the content contained within is subject to change. Be assured that I will never move an assignment due date earlier; if any due dates are moved, it will be to a later date.
