How to be Successful in this Class

Be present, be intellectually curious, contribute regularly, and engage equally with your peers and me. Your contributions show original thought and initiative, not simply agreement or endorsement. You interact with your peers as much as you do with me so that we create a learning community. Quality of thought is much more important than quantity.

Read the syllabus carefully so that you fully understand what is expected of you. Ask questions as they arise. Pay close attention to deadlines and suggested deadlines so that you keep up with the workload. Distribute the work across the semester and don’t wait until the end to turn in assignments.

For each 100 clock hours you should:

• Distribute the hours across elementary, middle, or high school setting
  - Minimum at any one level: 20 hours
  - Maximum at any one level: 40 hours
• Spend most of your time in settings that are unfamiliar or less familiar to you
For example, if you taught (or are teaching) middle school, spend less time at that level and more time with elementary and high school, say 35-40 hours in elementary, 35-40 hours in high school, and 20 hours at a middle school library.

Civility
Civility is genuine respect and regard for others: politeness, consideration, tact, good manners, graciousness, cordiality, affability, amiability and courteousness. Civility enhances academic freedom and integrity and is a prerequisite to the free exchange of ideas and knowledge in the learning community. Our community consists of students, faculty, staff, alumni, and campus visitors. Community members affect each other’s well-being and have a shared interest in creating and sustaining an environment where all community members and their points of view are valued and respected. Affirming the value of each member of the university community, the Campus asks that all its members adhere to the principles of civility and community adopted by the Campus.

CEHHS Teacher Preparation/School Library Standards and Assignments
Each semester you will be responsible for uploading certain assignments as demonstration of competence in AASL and Tennessee Literacy standards. The table below indicates the specific assignments and the associated standards. I will give you more instructions on how to upload the assignments later in the semester.

Learning Environment
Our class space is intended to be a safe, intellectually stimulating, collaborative space for learning, where we respect each other’s thoughts and process, and everyone’s voice and experiences are important. You are selfless learners, willing to put yourself forward to ask questions, propose answers, and provide feedback as needed. It is usually the case, for example, that if one person has a question or needs clarification, many others also wonder. Be bold and brave, be the person who asks when others are silent.

Information Literacy/Technological Resources
The bulk of your time for this class is spent in school libraries, however we will have at least one real-time Zoom meeting at the beginning of the semester, and we will also use Canvas for additional tasks. You should be comfortable with Online@UT (Canvas and Zoom), the Internet and world wide web, word processing, presentation and spreadsheet software, and social media applications. Campus resources support you, but ultimately it is your responsibility to have the necessary technical equipment and knowledge needed. For additional information or support:

- Technology at SIS
  - For online support during class, scroll down the page until you see the section entitled, “Real Time, Live Class Meetings Using ZOOM”
- UT Office of Information Technology (OIT)
  - There’s a link to the OIT HelpDesk on the upper left side of the page.
  - LinkedIn Learning (formerly lynda.com) is a great source of online training support, with tutorials and video on everything from Google Drive to Canvas. You’ll need your UTK netid and password to sign in.

Each semester OIT offers “Test Flights” where you can join an informal Zoom session to test your equipment and connections prior to class. These sessions are announced on the UTKSIS-L listserv and the LiveOnline@UT site. Strongly recommended!

I am required to communicate with you through your UTK email address. If you prefer to use another address, consult the OIT Helpdesk to obtain directions for forwarding your UTK mail to your preferred address if you don’t wish to check both accounts.

CEHHS also requires all teacher candidates to complete Google Certified Educator Level 1 Certification, which you should plan to do by the end of the semester. Here is the link to the training, https://teachercenter.withgoogle.com/certification_level1.

Course Requirements, Assessment and Evaluation Methods
We are using three sets of standards to frame our discussions and your practice, including:
- AASL National School Library Standards for School Librarians and School Libraries
- Tennessee Literacy Standards
- CEHHS Professional Competencies, Attitudes & Dispositions (ProCADs)

The AASL standards are our organizing framework for your practicum experience:
I. Inquire – critical thinking, problem solving, and strategizing for learning;
II. Include – commitment to diversity and inclusion
III. Collaborate – working effectively and successfully with others
IV. Curate – organizing for efficiency, access, and relevance
V. Explore – lifelong learning, instruction, leadership
VI. Engage – modeling and teaching safe, legal, ethical use of information

Each standard contains several competencies and each competency can be attained through a wide variety of valuable field experiences. Take the initiative to look for ways to get the most out of your limited time in this supervised setting. There may be times when you will also be asked to indicate how an assignment addresses Tennessee Literacy Standards.

There are many assignments and the challenge this semester is to balance your time in schools with submitting assignments. The due date in most cases is the final day of class, however you are strongly encouraged to read the assignments carefully and submit as soon as you can. Do not wait until the end of the semester or you may find yourself unable to finish all that is required.

Assessment
Your grade is based on:
- My overall assessment of the quality of your assignments and your timely participation
- An evaluation submitted by each of your supervising librarians (ProCADs survey)
- Your own self-evaluation on the ProCADs

The University mandates a particular grading scale for graduate students and possible grades for this class include:
- S is given for C or better work on the traditional grading scale
- NC is given for grades of C-, D+, D, D-, and F
- I, for incomplete work, recorded as an SI, and not computed in the average
  - The student only receives credit in the course if an S is received

None of these grades is counts toward grade point average but is on the permanent record and the hours do count toward graduate-level program requirements.

Note on “Incompletes”
University of Tennessee policy states that an "Incomplete" is granted only under "the most unusual of circumstances" at the discretion of the instructor. An “F” is submitted for students who simply disappear. More information is available here.

Citizenship, Resilience, and Grit (aka active class participation)
You start and contribute to posts on Canvas and bring related materials to the attention of the instructor or your fellow students. Your contributions show original thought and initiative, not simply agreement or endorsement. You interact with your peers as much as you do with me so that we create a learning community. Quality of thought is much more important than quantity.
University and Other Class Policies

Attendance Policy and Inclement Weather
You are expected to spend full school days in all your placements, Monday through Friday. Try to be there as much as possible when the librarian(s) is/are there. If schools are closed due to inclement weather, students should make every attempt to make up hours within the time frame of the practicum. Stay in touch so that I know if you’re having difficulty getting your hours done, especially toward the end of the semester.

Academic Integrity
Students should be familiar with and maintain their Academic Integrity as described in Hilltopics, the student handbook, p. 15 as: “Study, preparation and presentation should involve at all times the student’s own work, unless it has been clearly specified that work is to be a team effort. Academic honesty requires that the student present his or her own work in all academic projects, including tests, papers, homework, and class presentation. When incorporating the work of other scholars and writers into a project, the student must accurately cite the source of that work.”

Students should also abide by the Honor Statement (Section X. Honor Statement), “As a student of the University, I pledge that I will neither knowingly give nor receive any inappropriate assistance in academic work, thus affirming my own personal commitment to honor and integrity.”

Plagiarism
Plagiarism in any of its several forms is intolerable, and attention to matters of documentation in all written work is expected and required. Inadvertence, alleged lack of understanding, or avowed ignorance of the various types of plagiarism are not acceptable excuses. Specific examples of plagiarism are:
- Copying without proper documentation (quotation marks and a citation) written or spoken words, phrases, or sentences from any source;
- Summarizing without proper documentation (usually a citation) ideas from another source (unless such information is recognized as common knowledge);
- Borrowing facts, statistics, graphs, pictorial representations, or phrases without acknowledging the source (unless such information is recognized as common knowledge);
- Collaborating on a graded assignment without the instructor’s approval;
- Submitting work, either in whole or in part, created by a professional service and used without attribution (e.g., paper, speech, bibliography, or photograph).

Students who may be unsure of the nature of plagiarism should consult the instructor or a guide for writing research reports, or see additional resources on this Hodges LibGuide. Infractions of academic integrity are penalized according to the severity of the infraction but may include a course grade of "NC."

Students with Disabilities that May Impede Learning
Any student who feels s/he may need an accommodation based on the impact of a disability should contact Student Disability Services in Dunford Hall, at 865-974-6087, or by video relay at, 865-622-6566, to coordinate reasonable academic accommodations.
College of Communication & Information (CCI) Diversity Statement
CCI recognizes and values diversity. Exposing students to diverse people, ideas and cultures increases opportunities for intellectual inquiry, encourages critical thinking, and enhances communication and information competence. When all viewpoints are heard, thoughtfully considered, and respectfully responded to, everyone benefits. Diversity and fairness unite us with the wider professional and global community. For a fuller discussion of the CCI Diversity Statement, see www.cci.utk.edu/diversity-statement.

University of Tennessee Title IX Statement, Mandatory Reporter
University of Tennessee faculty are committed to supporting our students and upholding gender equity laws as outlined by Title IX. Please be aware that if you choose to confide in a faculty member regarding an issue of sexual misconduct, dating violence, or stalking, we are obligated to inform the University’s Title IX Coordinator, who can assist you in connecting with all possible resources both on- and off-campus. If you would like to speak with someone confidentially, the Student Counseling Center (865-974-2196) and the Student Health Center (865-974-3135) are both confidential resources.
